Summary:

The Bride Quartet by Nora Roberts is a series of four novels that follow the lives of four friends who own a wedding planning business. The first book in the series, Vision in White, follows Mackensie "Mac" Elliot, a wedding photographer who is struggling to come to terms with her own failed marriage. She meets Carter Maguire, a successful businessman who is looking for a wedding planner for his sister's wedding. Mac and Carter soon find themselves drawn to each other, but Mac is hesitant to open her heart again.

The second book, Bed of Roses, follows Emma Grant, a florist who is struggling to keep her business afloat. She meets Jack Cooke, a wealthy businessman who is looking for a florist for his sister's wedding. Emma and Jack soon find themselves drawn to each other, but Emma is hesitant to open her heart again.

The third book, Savor the Moment, follows Laurel McBane, a baker who is struggling to find her place in the world. She meets Delaney Brown, a successful businessman who is looking for a baker for his sister's wedding. Laurel and Delaney soon find themselves drawn to each other, but Laurel is hesitant to open her heart again.

The fourth book, Happy Ever After, follows Parker Brown, a wedding planner who is struggling to find her place in the world. She meets Malcolm Kavanaugh, a successful businessman who is looking for a wedding planner for his sister's wedding. Parker and Malcolm soon find themselves drawn to each other, but Parker is hesitant to open her heart again.

The Bride Quartet follows the lives of these four friends as they navigate their own personal struggles and find love along the way. Through their friendship and support, they are able to overcome their fears and find their own happy endings.
